To you--Mrs. Anita Fields, a life-long Thorobred, the class of 1953 proudly dedicates this yearbook for your unswerving loyalty to Kentucky State College.

Never will we forget the words of council and wisdom you gave us--the class of 1953--before we left the Hallowed Halls of our Alma Mater stepping confidently towards the future.

May you have cause to be as proud of us as we are of you!

These People Worked for You

Here we are at the end of our first year book, and another year. We hope both were equally enjoyable however we hope you will pardon us if we feel a little proud of our efforts. Some of us worked hard others not so hard but we made it.

We would like to introduce our staff, read from the left around the back then start on the second row.

Pete Johnson-psyching the copy sheet

Mary Fitzpatrick-saying "It's nice".

Tiger Fann-"digging that cat".

Jackie Brown-patiently waiting.

Letha Cofield-just thinking.

John Steward-doing what comes naturally.

Grant Dungee-being his usual indifferent self.

Mozetta Hocker-and "them their eyes".

Frances Clausell-getting in the act.

Bella Beach-the Cosmopolitan.

Norman Orr-saving his voice.

Margaret Milan-bubbling over.

Sonny Wickliff-peeping through.

Pat Hatcher-looking on.

Ella Lilly-likes this photographer.

Faye Jones-posing.

Jean Galloway-sharp as ever.

Ruth Bates-flashing that personality.

Babs Fuller-writing something.

Pictures not showing on Yearbook Staff.

James Henderson-Camera Shy

Mozelle Wilson-left out as usual but ready to work.

Robert Allen-Hurray!! I'm the photographer-The Blade.

William Clark-Don't loose your cool.

Melba J. Jefferson-I'm lost.

Roosevelt Shepherd-Be on the picture next year.

Paul Campbell-somewhere drawing.

Thanks to our two advisors Rev. King and Mr. Lynem who competently assisted us. We really thank you even if you might have thought us a bit headstrong at times. (smile)

With apologies to Mr. Longfellow

"K. S. C., we who are about to leave Salute you!" were the seniors' words on the steps, standing face to face with graduation and the student body" and you who fill the places we once filled, and follow in the furrows that we tilled, Men and women whose generous hearts are beating high",

We who are older and are about to leave Salute you; hail you; take your hand in ours, And crown you with our welcome as will flowers! How beautiful is youth! how bright it gleams with its illusions, aspirations, dreams!

Book of Beginnings, Story Without End, Each maid a heroine, and each man a friend! And now, my classmates; you remaining few that number not the half of those we knew, you, against whose familiar names not yet the glowing asterisk of fate is set. I fain would steal away, with noiseless tread, As from a house where someone lay dead. I cannot go; I pause; I hesitate; My feet reluctant linger at the gate; As one who struggles in a troubled dream To speak and cannot... with reverential feet I pass; I hear a voice that says, "now you whatever has been written shall remain, Nor be erased nor written o'er again, The unwritten only still belongs to you. Take heed and ponder well what that shall be."

The scholar and the world! The endless strife, The discord in the harmonies of life! The love of learning, the sequestered nooks, And all the sweet serenity of books; The market-place, the eager love of gain, Whose aim is vanity, and whose end is pain! But why, you ask me, should this tale be told. To graduates or underclassman? It's too late now. It is too late? Ah, nothing is too late!!

Till the tired heart shall cease to palpitate. Cato learned Greek at eighty; Sophocles wrote his grand Edipus, and Simonides bore off the prize of verse from his compeers, When each had numbered more than fourscore years, the Theophrastus, at fourscore and ten, had but begun his "Characters of Men". Something remains for you to do or dare; Even the oldest tree some fruit may bear.
